What Next?

Recently notice was made in these columns that the Pittsburgh Dispatch had added a fine literary magazine to its Sunday edition, and that the price would not be increased but would remain at five cents.

Now The Dispatch announces the publication of Roy Norton's latest novel, "The Nation's Pawn," and that the first installment will be published in the literary magazine section May 16. Those who read "The Vanishing Fleets" by the same author are sure to read Mr. Norton's new novel, which is considered better. The story is clean, wholesome and fit for every member of the family to read. It is certain to create a sensation.

After all the good things the Dispatch has been adding lately, is it any wonder people say, "What Next?"

Kills Her Poe of 20 Years.

"The most merciless enemy I had for 20 years," declares Mrs. James Duncan, of Haysville, Mo., "was dyspepsia. I suffered intensely after eating or drinking and could scarcely sleep. After several remedies had failed and several doctors had given me up, I tried Electric Bitters which cured me completely. Now I can eat anything. I am 70 years old and am overjoyed to get my health and strength back again." For indigestion, loss of appetite, kidney trouble, lame back, female complaints, its unequalled. Only 50c at H. L. McEntire's.

COLISSIMO WAS GUILTY

Entered a Plea of Manslaughter and Will Serve a Long Term of Imprisonment.

The latter part of December, 1907, Gabriella Collosa, or Colissimo, a former citizen of Reynoldsville, was arrested at Fuller, Pa., on charge of having murdered a man at St. Augustine, Florida, in January, 1892. He was confined in the county jail at Brookville to await for an officer to come from Florida to take him to that state.

After Deputy Sheriff Sabate, of St. Augustine, arrived in Brookville, a hearing on the writ of habeas corpus was held before Judge John W. Reed on Monday evening, January 13, 1908. The accused man attempted to set up an alibi and called a number of witnesses from Reynoldsville in his behalf, who testified that he resided here at the time the crime was committed, but Judge Reed declined to release Colissimo.

A number of people thought Colissimo was innocent, but having entered a plea of guilty of manslaughter removes any doubt about his innocence. The St. Augustine Evening Record of April 27, 1909, says:

"Charged with murder in the first degree Gabriella Collosa, who is also known by the name of Colissimo, yesterday entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter and the court accepted the plea. This will save the Italian from the extreme penalty, but will mean a long term of imprisonment. Collosa was charged with the murder of Joseph Lambias some eighteen years ago, having shot him and escaped from the state. The tragedy was the result of a difference over money the Italian claimed his employer owed him. Collosa escaped after the shooting and returned to Italy. After a stay of some time in Italy he again came to the United States and located in Pennsylvania in the mining region. Having so long evaded the law he became boastful and confided to another Italian the crime. His confidant notified the authorities who in turn advised the officers here and Deputy Sheriff Sabate went to Pennsylvania and identified the Italian among a score of others. After considerable difficulty Deputy Sabate succeeded in getting the Italian into custody and brought him back to the scene of his crime. Collosa has been in jail since he was brought back and his trial was continued from one term of court to another for the past three terms."

At the time of his arrest at Fuller it was claimed that he had boasted to a fellowcountryman that he had killed a man in Florida eighteen years ago, and the fellow to whom he had boasted gave the information to the Brookville officers who made the arrest.

Following are among the bills signed by Governor Stuart during the past week:

Authorizing townships surrounding a borough to erect high school buildings and exempting property so acquired from taxation.

Providing for the office of county controller in counties where such office does not exist, abolishing the office of county auditor where such office of county controller becomes operative, and providing for the salary of same.

Fixing the term of borough treasurers and street commissioners in boroughs of this commonwealth at three years.

Requiring gypsies or roaming bards of nomads to take out license to pitch or settle their encampments or carry on any business.

Increasing the marriage license fee from 50 cents to $1.00.

Amending the act of April 15, 1834, relating to county and township rates and levies by providing that assessors in their returns to county commissioners shall note such changes as have been made by mining out coal, ore and other minerals.

Repealing section 22 of the county officers act of April 15, 1834, fixing the time when the county commissioners shall publish the annual statement of the receipts and expenditures of the county for each preceding year.

Notice to Taxpayers.

COLE BROTHERS' SHOWS COMING

Aggregation Bigger and Better than Ever With Many Thrilling Features. May 21 and 22.

When the Cole Brothers World Famed Shows were organized for the present season, experience and capital united in perfecting one of the most superb amusement enterprises ever conceived. The season of 1908 was hardly concluded before the many agents and the heads of the various departments were called into consultation with the executive staff and numerous and various plans and features discussed, and many discarded and others accepted. The line of organization to make the shows the most meritorious and modern in the world was always foremost in all discussions, suggestions and plans, and the determination to give to the amusement-loving people of this country something entirely new, and not a show with which they had become entirely too familiar, was thoroughly carried out in the smallest of detail. The reputation that for over a quarter of a century these gigantic shows have always enjoyed, could not be improved in the least by the show itself, further than to assemble it so as to put it in a class far above all others, and that can be safely said of it as it is to-day. The unlimited improvements adopted alone could and have added to the show's reputation, which even up to now had been unequalled.

Foreign artists were secured because they were entirely new in this country, and American artists were contracted for only when it was assured that their acts had never before been seen with any tented aggregation. Many of the features were obtained only after salaries that to any other show would have been prohibitive, were included in the contract. The Cole Brothers will not, under any conditions, sacrifice one portion of their performance to strengthen another part. It must be evenly arranged and the program must be excellent throughout.

Cole Brothers World Famed Shows will be in DuBois Friday, May 21, and in Punxsutawney Saturday, May 22, and with them will be everything new and nothing old.

Kidnapers Given Long Sentences In Penitentiary

No Mercy Shown To Boyle And His Wife at Mercer Monday.

BOTH CONTEMPLATE SUICIDE

James H. Boyle and wife, Helen, who were tried in the Mercer county court last week for kidnaping Willie Whittle from his parents in Sharon, Pa., a couple of months ago, were sentenced Monday morning by Judge A. W. Williams. Boyles was given a life sentence in the Western Penitentiary and Mrs. Boyle was sentenced to serve twenty five years in the Western Penitentiary and to pay a fine of $5,000. This is a heavy penalty but none too severe for the crime of stealing a child from his parents.

Mrs. Boyle attempted to commit suicide by taking morphine, but the drug did not prove fatal, although she thought she was taking sufficient poison to kill two persons. In searching Boyle Monday morning the sheriff found hidden between the lining and silk of his four-in-hand necktie a white handled razor and a scarf pin. The sheriff said that the purpose of the razor, evidently, was to kill Mrs. Boyle and then kill himself.
